

CALL CENTER INTERVIEW GUIDE:

POSSIBLE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

BY ELJAY

Tell me something about yourself?

- First of all, good day ma'am, I would be glad to share some information about myself. I am Eljay Cabellon, 20 years old. Currently lived in Basak Pardo Cebu City and it takes 45 minutes to arrive here in [Name of the company]. My highest educational attainment is I am a College Undergraduate, I completed a 2nd year college from Cebu Institute of Technology – University took up Bachelor of science in Information Technology. Currently, I don't have any plans to return to school because I am focused on pursuing new opportunities and gaining experiences in my chosen field. Honestly, I have a strong passion for customer service. Also has proven ability to build strong relationship to people, serve with dedication to the assigned work, always get the job on time, and I have a good ethical judgement and integrity in work. By the way [Name of the company] is my dream company since I was a senior high school student and I want to start my career right here right now. To be honest, I don't have a BPO experience yet but I am eager to learn and work here in your company as an agent.

What is your greatest strength?

-My greatest strength is I possess a natural talent for connecting with people, establishing positive relationships, and understanding customer needs. This enables me to deliver exceptional service in the most effective manner.

What is your greatest weaknesses?

-My greatest weakness is I am very shy to share my ideas to others. However, I am actively working on improving my confidence and overcoming this challenge by seeking opportunities to voice my opinions and contribute to team discussions.

Why do you want to work in a call center?

-The reason why I want to work here in a call center it's because I want money and I am saying this because I am stated the fact. Other reason why I want to work in a call center it's because of I also love solving problems over the phone and enjoy interacting with people and providing assistance. I believe that working in a call center allows me to utilize my communication skills and problem-solving abilities to make a positive impact on customers' lives.

What is your goal in life?

-My goal in life is to continuously grow both personally and professionally. I aspire to develop my skills and knowledge in the customer service industry, I really want to enhance my communication skills and problem solving skills.

How do you define customer service?

-Customer service, to me, is about going above and beyond to meet customer needs and expectations. It involves actively listening, understanding their concerns, and delivering solutions in a timely and friendly manner, ensuring customer satisfaction and loyalty.

How do you define quality customer service?

-Quality customer service involves understanding and fulfilling customer needs while exceeding their expectations. It means treating customers with respect, providing accurate information, resolving issues promptly, and leaving them satisfied with the interaction.

What do you understand by the term "Customer Satisfaction"?

-Customer satisfaction refers to meeting or exceeding a customer's expectations, resulting in their contentment with the product, service, or interaction. It's a measure of the customer's positive perception of their experience.

How can you build customer loyalty?

-Building customer loyalty involves consistently delivering exceptional service, exceeding expectations, resolving issues promptly, and showing genuine care for their needs. Maintaining positive relationships and personalizing interactions also play a crucial role.

Do you enjoy working in a team?

-Any work in an organization requires teamwork. So the answer to this question should always be a yes. Well, I really enjoy working together with a team to gain ideas and helping one another to address any problems that we may encounter just to achieve common goals and have a positive work atmosphere.

How do you handle an irate customers?

-Hmmm, if I encountered an irate customers, well, all I need to do is to remain calm and have a gentle tone of voice. I don't want to take it personally because I know that the customer is not angry with me but the customer is angry it's because they are not satisfied. So I am going to apologize for inconvenience and will provide a solution to address their problems.

How do you see yourself 5 years from now?

-Ahmm, if I'm lucky enough to get hired on this company, Well in 5 years from now, I see myself still working here in this company but with a higher position that could also results with a higher salary as well.

Why we should hire you?

-You should hire me because I want to start and build a career in this company and also I intended to stay long term. I know that this could be a stressful job but I am not the type of person that could easily get stress and also I am not the type of person that easily get angry because I know how to control myself, I know how to manage my time, and I know that my job here is to be nice with the customers. Whatever they vent their anger to me, I just chill and fix it. So again, if I'm lucky enough to get hired, I am going to try my best here in this company that can be proud of. Overall, my only objective here is to keep learning and improving.

What computer skills do you possess that are relevant to this role?

-I am proficient in using Microsoft Office applications, and have a good typing speed, which allows me to navigate systems quickly and efficiently while delivering excellent customer service.

Why we should not hire you?

-wtf? if you are not looking for the person that are willing to work with dedication in this company then probably you should not hire me! If you are not looking for the person that intends to stay long term in this company then probably you should not hire me! If you are not looking for a person that knows how to manage stressful situations then probably you should not hire me!

How do you describe color to a blind person?

-For me to describe color to a blind person, hmm I should try to let them use their senses, such as sense of touch, sense of hearing, sense of smell, and sense of taste.

How do you describe color blue to a blind person?

-To describe color blue to a blind person, I am going to let use their sense of hearing like letting them listen to the sound of a sea and its wave. Other sense to describe color blue to a blind person is I will let them use their sense of touch by letting them hold something cold.

How do you describe color yellow to a blind person?

-To describe color yellow to a blind person, I am going to let use their sense of touch by letting them hold a banana or a dick of mine.

What is call center BPO?

- Call Center BPO stands for "Business Process Outsourcing." It refers to a company that provides customer support and services on behalf of other businesses. BPOs handle various tasks such as inbound and outbound calls, technical support, and other customer-related functions.

What is your expectation in this company?

-My expectation in this company is to be part of a dynamic and supportive team where I can utilize and enhance my customer service skills. I hope to work in an environment that values professional growth and provides opportunities for advancement.

What is call center?

-A call center is a centralized office or facility where employees, known as customer service representatives, handle incoming and outgoing calls to assist customers with inquiries, resolve issues, and provide support for products or services.

Why do you choose call center?

-I chose a call center career because I enjoy helping people and find satisfaction in resolving their concerns. Moreover, the fast-paced and diverse nature of the work in a call center appeals to my strong communication and problem-solving skills.

Why do you choose our company?

-I chose your company because it has a stellar reputation in the industry for providing exceptional customer service. I believe that working here will offer me the ideal platform to further develop my skills and contribute significantly to the success of the organization.

What is your expected salary?

-Regarding salary expectations, I am more focused on finding the right company that aligns with my career goals and values. I am open to discussing a competitive salary package that reflects my skills and experience, along with opportunities for growth and recognition.

What motivated you to apply for this call center agent position?

-I am motivated by the opportunity to utilize my communication skills, problem-solving abilities, and passion for customer service to contribute to the success of your organization.

Describe a time when you had to deal with a challenging customer. How did you handle the situation?

-I once encountered a demanding customer who was dissatisfied with a service. I patiently listened, acknowledged their concerns, and offered a personalized solution that exceeded their expectations, ultimately turning their negative experience into a positive one.

How would you handle a situation where you couldn't provide a customer with the solution they were looking for?

-If I couldn't provide a customer with the desired solution, then first and foremost I would apologize for any inconvenience caused and assure them that I would explore alternative options. I would consult with my team or escalate the issue to a supervisor to find the best possible resolution and keep the customer informed throughout the process.

How comfortable are you working in shifts, including night shifts and weekends?

-I am fully comfortable working in shifts, including night shifts and weekends. I understand the nature of the call center industry and I am willing to accommodate the required work schedule.

What strategies would you employ to improve your customer service skills?

-To improve my customer service skills, I would actively seek feedback from customers and supervisors, continuously learn about the products/services offered, participate in training programs, and stay updated on industry best practices. I would also practice effective communication, empathy, and problem-solving techniques.

How would you describe the role of a call center representative?

-A call center representative serves as the frontline contact for customers, handling inquiries, issues, and providing solutions. They are responsible for addressing customer needs through phone, chat, or email, offering assistance, troubleshooting problems, and ensuring a positive customer experience.

What are the most important skills for a call center representative?

-Key skills for a call center representative include strong communication, active listening, empathy, problem-solving, and the ability to work under pressure. Effective communication ensures clear understanding of customer needs, while empathy and problem-solving skills help in resolving issues efficiently.

What is the key to success in a call center?

-The key to success in a call center lies in effective communication, empathy, adaptability, and problem-solving. Maintaining a positive attitude, understanding diverse customer needs, and consistently delivering quality service contribute to success.

What steps do you take when speaking with a customer?

-When engaging with a customer, I start by introducing myself and expressing gratitude for their call. I then actively listen to understand their concern and empathize with their situation. After providing clear information and suitable solutions, I confirm their satisfaction and ensure they are well-informed about next steps. This approach fosters a personalized, trust-building interaction that leaves the customer content and valued.

How you handle work-pressure?

-I handle work pressure by prioritizing tasks, staying organized, and maintaining a calm demeanor. Taking short breaks, deep breaths, and focusing on one task at a time help me manage stress effectively.

What is your typing skill?

-I have strong typing skills with the ability to accurately type at a rate of 55 and above words per minute, ensuring efficient communication with customers.

Can you handle multiple calls at the same time?

-While I haven't worked in a call center before, I have developed strong skills that are directly transferable to the role. I am enthusiastic about learning and adapting to the unique demands of the call center environment. If given the opportunity, I am confident that my dedication to providing excellent service and my quick learning curve will allow me to excel in handling multiple calls and ensuring customer satisfaction.

Do you like multi-tasking or you prefer to tackle one problem at a time?

-I find value in both multi-tasking and tackling one problem at a time. Multi-tasking can enhance efficiency when handling various tasks simultaneously. However, I also recognize the significance of providing focused attention to each issue, ensuring the delivery of quality solutions and maintaining a high level of customer service. By adapting my approach based on the situation, I aim to strike a balance that optimizes productivity and customer satisfaction.

How you rate yourself on communication skills?

-I have a basic understanding of English communication. While I may not be highly skilled, I am working on improving my language abilities. I am committed to learning and enhancing my communication skills to better interact with customers and provide the best service possible.

While talking to a customer, what are the procedures you follow?

- When I talk to customers, I follow a step-by-step process to make sure they're happy. I start by saying hello and telling them my name. Then, I ask how I can help them. I listen carefully to understand what they need. I try my best to solve their problem and ask if they're okay with the solution. I also check if they need more help before we finish talking. My goal is to make sure they feel good about our conversation and the help they received.

What can you contribute to our company?

-While I may be new to the call center industry, I bring a strong enthusiasm to learn and grow within your company. My fresh perspective means I can approach challenges with an open mind and a willingness to adapt. I have a strong work ethic, excellent listening skills, and a dedication to providing top-notch customer service. I'm excited to undergo training, absorb knowledge, and work collaboratively with the team to contribute effectively to the company's goals.

One day you will leave our company so what would be the reason and why?

-While it's difficult to predict the distant future, if I were to consider leaving the company, it would likely be driven by a desire for personal and professional growth. I envision that I might explore new opportunities to further develop my skill set and take on more responsibilities. However, I believe that growth doesn't necessarily mean leaving an organization. If your company continues to offer a supportive environment, opportunities for advancement, and challenges that align with my aspirations, I would be motivated to stay and contribute to its success over the long term.

How long will you stay in our company?

-My initial plan is to stay for a minimum of five years. My intention is to build a long-term career here, and I believe that as long as the company provides opportunities for learning, advancement, and a positive work environment, there's a strong likelihood that I will remain dedicated to being a valuable member of the team, permanently.

Addition:Do you believe that the customers is always right?

-No, I don't believe that the customer is always right. However, we should let them feel that they are right, even when they are not, because customer satisfaction is crucial for business success. Yet, there could be times when the customer's perspective needs to be balanced with practical considerations. For me, this approach emphasizes the importance of excellent customer service and creating a positive experience.

Sell me something?

-Absolutely, let me introduce you to our smart home assistant. It's like having a personal helper that can manage your lights, thermostat, and even answer your questions – all with just your voice. Imagine coming home and saying 'turn on the lights' or 'what's the weather today' and getting instant responses. It's convenience at your fingertips, making your daily routine effortless and more efficient.

FINANCIAL SOFTWARE ACCOUNT – CONCENTRIX

Validation Interview Process (3-part validation interview)

Hire-To-Values (HTV)

1. Agent – Peer to Peer Interview

2. SME Customer Situation Assessment (role play)

3. Team Manager Interview

1. Agent – Peer to Peer Interview

What is Financial software account?

-As far as I understand, a financial software account is like a digital wallet for managing your money. It is a special place in a computer program where you can keep track of how much money you have, where it comes from, and where it goes. It helps you see your spending, savings, and investments all in one spot.

Cite and share relevant school. What you learn from school? Explain why.

-I am proficient in using Microsoft office applications, particularly Microsoft Access, which allowed me to learn about databases. In this context, databases are organized systems for storing and managing information, like contact details or inventory. They help streamline data, making it easier to retrieve and analyze. My skills in databases involve creating and managing structured information, which is valuable for organizing and accessing data efficiently.

What do you mean by Data?

-Data is a raw facts and figures that are collected, stored, and processed, in order to extract useful information.

What do you mean by Information?

-Information can be defined as Data that has been processed, analyzed, and organized in a way that makes it meaningful and useful. Include information in the form of reports, insights, knowledge and more.

What is CRUD? What is the purpose of CRUD? What CRUD means? Explain.

-CRUD stands for Create, Read, Update, and Delete. It is used in databases and software systems to manage data.

For create operation, it means adding a new data to a system. It is used when input new information.

For read operation, it means retrieving data from a system. It is used to view or access stored information.

For update operation, it means modifying existing data from a system. It is used to change information.

For delete operation, it means remove data from a system. It is used to delete existing information.

2. SME Customer Situation Assessment (role play)

7 STEPS OF A CALL FLOW (Mock Call tips)

- 1. Open the Call (always)
- 2. Empathize, apologies, or assure (whichever applies)
- 3. Confirm the customer's account (if applicable)
- 4. Probe/ ask relevant questions (if applicable)
- 5. Solve the problem or Answer the question (always)
- 6. Offer additional assistance (always)
- 7. Close the Call (always)

Must do introduction:

"Hello, This is Eljay Cabellon from Concentrix. Thank you for reaching out to our company. How can I assist you today?"

Other to say:

Take note, Don't forget to apologize for inconvenience cause if you need to.

"No worries, I would be happy to help you with that. To begin, (do you know..., could you...,)

"No problem, I am here to guide you..."

"Im sorry for trouble, Let's work together to resolve this. Could you please tell me the exact error message you're seeing?"

"Let me explain how..."

Best one:

"I truly understand how frustrating this is for you. I truly do. I do."

"But on very rare occasion, this kind of mistake could happen from time to time. And I'm so sorry that this happened to you. Of course, this is not an excuse. And a mistake is a mistake. And right now, what I can do is to help you resolve this issue."

"I assure you, [Name of customer]. What happened was an honest mistake. We would never do that to our customers on purpose. And for that, I am truly sorry."

"I wish I could have done more to you, but this has been our policy since [year]."

Scenario 1: Password Reset

Customer: "I can't log in. I forgot my password."

You: "No worries! I can help. Could you please tell me your email or username? I'll guide you through resetting your password."

Customer: "Sure, my email is example@email.com."

You: "Thank you. I've sent a password reset link to your email. Please check your inbox and follow the instructions. Let me know once you've done that."

Customer: "Got it, I found the email. I clicked the link and changed my password."

You: "Great! You're all set now. You should be able to log in with your new password. If you have any more issues, feel free to reach out."

Customer: "Thank you so much for your help!"

You: "You're welcome! If you have any other questions in the future, don't hesitate to ask. Have a great day!"

Scenario 2: Login Issue

Customer: "I'm having trouble logging in."

You: "I'm here to help. First, let's check if your username and password are correct. If they are, we'll troubleshoot together to get you logged in."

Customer: "I'm sure my username and password are right, but it's not working."

You: "I understand. Sometimes, technical glitches can cause this. Let's try a simple fix: can you please clear your browser's cache and cookies, and then try logging in again?"

Customer: "Okay, I cleared the cache and cookies, but it's still not working."

You: "I appreciate you trying that. If the issue persists, let's try using a different browser. Sometimes that helps. Could you give that a shot?"

Customer: "I tried a different browser, and I'm still unable to log in."

You: "Thank you for trying that. Since that didn't work, I suggest resetting your password. This often resolves login issues. Would you like me to guide you through the password reset process?"

Customer: "Yes, please."

You: "Certainly! I've sent a password reset link to your email. Please check your inbox and follow the instructions. Once you've changed your password, try logging in again."

Customer: "I just reset my password, and now I can log in! Thank you so much for your help!"

You: "You're welcome! I'm glad the issue is resolved. If you encounter any more problems or have questions, don't hesitate to reach out. Have a great day!"

Scenario 3: Balance Inquiry

Customer: Hi, I'm new to using this financial software. Can you help me check my account balance?

Customer Service: Of course! I'd be happy to help. Could you please provide me with your account number or username?

Customer: Sure, my account number is 123456789.

Customer Service: Thank you. Let me just pull up your account. One moment, please...

Customer Service: Your current account balance is $1,250.23. Is there anything else you'd like to know?

Customer: That's great, thank you for your help!

Customer Service: You're welcome! If you have any more questions in the future, don't hesitate to reach out. Have a great day!

Scenario 4: Transaction Clarification

Customer: Hi, I'm a bit confused about a recent transaction in my account. Can you help me understand it?

Customer Service: Of course, I'd be glad to assist you. Could you please provide me with the transaction details or reference number?

Customer: The transaction was for $50 at a local store, but I don't remember making that purchase.

Customer Service: I see. Let me look into that for you. One moment, please...

Customer Service: It looks like the transaction was made on [Date] at [Store Name]. If you don't recognize this transaction, it's possible that your card details were used without your permission. I recommend contacting our fraud department to investigate this further.

Customer: Oh, I see. Thank you for clarifying. I'll contact the fraud department right away.

Customer Service: You're welcome. Don't hesitate to get in touch if you need any more assistance. Have a good day!

Scenario 5: Payment Assistance

Customer: Hi, I'm trying to make a payment using the financial software, but I'm not sure how to do it.

Customer Service: I'd be happy to help you with that. Can you please let me know which type of payment you're trying to make? Is it a bill payment, a transfer to another account, or something else?

Customer: I need to pay my monthly rent to my landlord.

Customer Service: Got it. To make a payment to your landlord, you'll need their bank account details. Do you have their account number and the name of their bank?

Customer: Yes, I have their account number and bank name.

Customer Service: Great! Here's what you need to do: Log in to your account. Navigate to the "Payments" or "Transfers" section. Select "Make a Payment" or a similar option. Enter your landlord's account number and bank name. Input the payment amount and date. Review the details and confirm the payment.

Customer: Okay, that sounds simple enough. Let me try it. Thank you for your assistance!

Customer Service: You're welcome! If you encounter any issues or have more questions, feel free to reach out. Have a wonderful day!

3. Team Manager Interview

1. Can you share an example from your academic or personal background that demonstrates your ability to handle challenging situations and find solutions?

-In college, while studying Information Technology, I encountered a complex database issue. The data was jumbled up, causing errors. I tackled it step by step: analyzed the problem, consulted experts, and researched solutions. I learned the importance of patience, teamwork, and the technical aspects of databases.

2. How do you plan to foster a positive team culture and motivate your team members, given your lack of prior team management experience?

- Though new to managing teams, I'm committed to creating a positive environment. I'll respect everyone's input, encourage open communication, and acknowledge achievements. I believe in valuing each team member's contribution.

3. What steps will you take to ensure that you're providing accurate guidance to your team and customers, especially when dealing with financial software account queries?

- As I'm new, I'll work hard to understand the software completely. If stuck, I'll ask experts for help and prioritize teamwork. This way, we can ensure accurate guidance for both our team and customers using the financial software.

basic interview questions for a Team Manager position in a call center, tailored for an applicant with no prior BPO (Business Process Outsourcing) experience:

Tell me about a situation where you had to handle a challenging task or project. How did you approach it, and what was the outcome?

- Once, I encountered a demanding project that required innovative problem-solving. I approached it by researching similar cases, seeking advice from experienced colleagues, and creating a detailed plan. Although it was tough, my determination and willingness to learn allowed me to overcome obstacles and deliver a successful outcome, enhancing my skills and confidence.

Describe a time when you had to work in a team to achieve a goal. How did you contribute to the team's success?

- In a team, we had a goal to improve customer satisfaction. I contributed by sharing ideas, listening to others, and taking on tasks that matched my skills. Together, we increased customer happiness.

Imagine you have a team member struggling to meet their targets. How would you motivate and support them?

-If a team member struggles, I'd talk privately, understand their challenges, and offer help. Together, we'd set achievable targets and celebrate progress, boosting their confidence.

In a call center environment, communication is key. Can you give an example of how effective communication positively impacted a team or project you were involved in?

- In a team project, effective communication proved essential. We established clear channels for sharing updates, concerns, and insights. For instance, by regularly using a digital platform to exchange information and ideas, we maintained a cohesive workflow. This improved collaboration streamlined our efforts and led to a cohesive final result, highlighting how strong communication drives team success.

Describe your approach to learning new software or tools quickly.

-I learn software quickly by following tutorials, practicing, and asking colleagues for tips. Breaking it down helps me grasp concepts faster.

What do you believe are the most important qualities of a successful Team Manager in a call center?

- A good Team Manager should be supportive, a good communicator, and able to solve problems quickly. They should also encourage teamwork and help team members grow.

Team Manager Interview or Final Interview (proven and tested in Eljay in different Companies)

What is Honesty versus integrity?

- Honesty means telling the truth and being straightforward in your communication. It's about not lying, cheating, or deceiving others. While Integrity means having strong moral principles and consistently doing what is right, even when no one is watching. It involves being truthful and adhering to a code of ethics in all aspects of life.

Tell me about a situation where you had challenged your integrity?

- During a group project, there was a temptation to copy someone else's work to save time and get a better grade. However, I chose to maintain my integrity by discussing the issue with my group members and finding a fair way to distribute the workload and complete the project honestly.

If you chose to write a book about your life, what would the title be?

-If I were choose to write a book about my life, then The title would be "What Matters To Me", In this context, for me I want to include all about what matters to me in life. For this book title, I want to tell the readers that what matters to me in life are God, Family, Friendships, Time, Memories, Health, and Experiences because to me, they are the reason why I feel most inspired. My faith in God, the love and connection I share with my family and friends, the memorable moments we create, the importance of maintaining good health, and the challenges that I faced in life motivates me to keep moving forward. I believed that these inspirations provide a strong foundation for my journey.

Do you believe that the customers is always right?

-No, I don't believe that the customer is always right. However, we should let them feel that they are right, even when they are not, because customer satisfaction is crucial for business success. Yet, there could be times when the customer's perspective needs to be balanced with practical considerations. For me, this approach emphasizes the importance of excellent customer service and creating a positive experience.

Tell me something about yourself?

- First of all, good day ma'am, I would be glad to share some information about myself. I am Eljay Cabellon, 20 years old. Currently lived in Basak Pardo Cebu City and it takes 45 minutes to arrive here in [Name of the company]. My highest educational attainment is I am a College Undergraduate, I completed a 2nd year college from Cebu Institute of Technology – University took up Bachelor of science in Information Technology. Currently, I don't have any plans to return to school because I am focused on pursuing new opportunities and committed to work in a BPO industry with determination. Honestly, I have a strong passion for customer service. Also has proven ability to build strong relationship to people, serve with dedication to the assigned work, always get the job on time, and I have a good ethical judgement and integrity in work. By the way [Name of the company] is my dream company since I was a senior high school student and I want to start my career right here right now. To be honest, I don't have a BPO experience yet but I am eager to learn and work here in your company as a call center.

Why do you want to work in a call center?

-The reason why I want to work here in a call center it's because I want money and I am saying this because I am stated the fact. Other reason why I want to work in a call center it's because of I also love solving problems over the phone and enjoy interacting with people and providing assistance. I believe that working in a call center allows me to utilize my communication skills and problem-solving abilities to make a positive impact on customers' lives.

What is your goal in life?

-My goal in life is to continuously grow both personally and professionally. I aspire to develop my skills and knowledge in the customer service industry, eventually taking on leadership roles that contribute to the success of the organization.

How do you handle an irate customers?

-Hmmm, if I encountered an irate customers, well, all I need to do is to remain calm and have a gentle tone of voice. I don't want to take it personally because I know that the customer is not angry with me but the customer is angry it's because they are not satisfied. So I am going to apologize for inconvenience and will provide a solution to address their problems.

How do you see yourself 5 years from now?

-Ahmm, if I'm lucky enough to get hired on this company, Well in 5 years from now, I see myself still working here in this company but with a higher position that could also results with a higher salary as well.

Why we should hire you?

-You should hire me because I want to start and build a career in this company and also I intended to stay long term. I know that this could be a stressful job but I am not the type of person that could easily get stress and also I am not the type of person that easily get angry because I know how to control myself, I know how to manage my time, and I know that my job here is to be nice with the customers. Whatever they vent their anger to me, I just chill and fix it. So again, if I'm lucky enough to get hired, I am going to try my best here in this company that can be proud of. Overall, my only objective here is to keep learning and improving.

Why we should not hire you?

-wtf? if you are not looking for the person that are willing to work with dedication in this company then probably you should not hire me! If you are not looking for the person that intends to stay long term in this company then probably you should not hire me! If you are not looking for a person that knows how to manage stressful situations then probably you should not hire me!

What is your expectation in this company?

-My expectation in this company is to be part of a dynamic and supportive team where I can utilize and enhance my customer service skills. I hope to work in an environment that values professional growth and provides opportunities for advancement.

What is your expected salary?

-My salary expectation ranged is from 10k and above. But, regarding salary expectations, I am more focused on finding the right company that aligns with my career goals and values. I am open to discussing a competitive salary package that reflects my skills and experience, along with opportunities for growth and recognition.

What motivated you to apply for this call center agent position?

-I am motivated by the opportunity to utilize my communication skills, problem-solving abilities, and passion for customer service to contribute to the success of your organization.

Describe a time when you had to deal with a challenging customer. How did you handle the situation?

-I once encountered a demanding customer who was dissatisfied with a service. I patiently listened, acknowledged their concerns, and offered a personalized solution that exceeded their expectations, ultimately turning their negative experience into a positive one.

In your previous job, what are the mistakes that you did and how do you come up with the solution or to correct that mistakes?

-In my previous job as a crew, the mistake that I'd encountered was Not effectively communicating with the kitchen staff or other team members, leading to errors in food preparation or service. Then there's a customer saying that the food they ordered are incorrect. So all I did is I patiently listened, acknowledge their concerns, and offered the correct food that they ordered. For me to correct that mistake, We ensure that every team member understands their specific roles and responsibilities. This reduces confusion and overlaps.

How would you handle a situation where you couldn't provide a customer with the solution they were looking for?

-If I couldn't provide a customer with the desired solution, then first and foremost I would apologize for any inconvenience caused and assure them that I would explore alternative options. I would consult with my team or escalate the issue to a supervisor to find the best possible resolution and keep the customer informed throughout the process.

How comfortable are you working in shifts, including night shifts and weekends?

-I am fully comfortable working in shifts, including night shifts and weekends. I understand the nature of the call center industry and I am willing to accommodate the required work schedule.

How would you describe the role of a call center representative?

-A call center representative serves as the frontline contact for customers, handling inquiries, issues, and providing solutions. They are responsible for addressing customer needs through phone, chat, or email, offering assistance, troubleshooting problems, and ensuring a positive customer experience.

What are the most important skills for a call center representative?

-Key skills for a call center representative include strong communication, active listening, empathy, problem-solving, and the ability to work under pressure. Effective communication ensures clear understanding of customer needs, while empathy and problem-solving skills help in resolving issues efficiently.

What can you contribute to our company?

-While I may be new to the call center industry, I bring a strong enthusiasm to learn and grow within your company. My fresh perspective means I can approach challenges with an open mind and a willingness to adapt. I have a strong work ethic, excellent listening skills, and a dedication to providing top-notch customer service. I'm excited to undergo training, absorb knowledge, and work collaboratively with the team to contribute effectively to the company's goals.

One day you will leave our company so what would be the reason and why?

- If I were to consider leaving the company, it would likely be driven by a desire for personal and professional growth. I envision that I might explore new opportunities to further develop my skill set and take on more responsibilities. However, I believe that growth doesn't necessarily mean leaving an organization. If your company continues to offer a supportive environment, opportunities for advancement, and challenges that align with my aspirations, I would be motivated to stay and contribute to its success over the long term.

How long will you stay in our company?

-My initial plan is to stay for a minimum of five years. My intention is to build a long-term career here, and I believe that as long as the company provides opportunities for learning, advancement, and a positive work environment, there's a strong likelihood that I will remain dedicated to being a valuable member of the team, permanently.

Tell me about a time when you had to complete a task with little or no direction. What steps did you take to complete the task?

-a time when I had to complete a task with little or no direction, the steps I did to complete the task are first, initial research

second, clarification

third, planning

fourth, leveraging resources

fifth, testing and experimentation

sixth, consultation

seventh, time management

eighth, documentation

ninth, iteration and feedback and lastly, final review. Before submission, I thoroughly reviewed my work to ensure it met the task's requirements and aligned with the expected standards.

Why do you chose work over your studies?

-Honestly, I have been facing financial problems. But that's not the reason why I stopped my school. In fact, I really really wanted to work to become an independent person and I intended to chose work over my studies. I chose work over my studies because I believe it's the best way for me to gain real-world experience and practical skills that will help me grow in my career. I chose work over my studies because I wanted to earn money to support my family, myself, and others that have supported me along the way.

CABLE ACCOUNT – CONCENTRIX

Note: I am being reprofiled on this account cause I didn't qualify in the Financial Software acc.

Validation Interview Process (Final Interview and Mock Call)

What is the difference between a router and a modem?

A router and a modem are two different devices that are commonly used to connect to the internet. While they are both important components of a network, they perform different functions.

Modem:

A modem is a device that connects your computer or other devices to the internet. It stands for "modulator-demodulator." In simple terms, a modem takes the data from your computer and converts it into a signal that can be transmitted over telephone lines or cable lines. The signal is then sent to the internet service provider (ISP), which then connects you to the internet.

There are different types of modems available, such as cable modems, DSL modems, and dial-up modems. Cable modems are used to connect to the internet through a cable TV line, while DSL modems are used to connect to the internet through a telephone line. Dial-up modems are used to connect to the internet through a telephone line as well, but they are much slower than cable or DSL modems.

Router:

A router is a device that is used to connect different devices on a network. It takes the signal from the modem and distributes it to different devices in your home or office. A router can be wired or wireless. A wired router is connected to your computer through an Ethernet cable, while a wireless router uses Wi-Fi to connect to your computer.

A router allows you to connect multiple devices to the internet at the same time, such as smartphones, tablets, laptops, and gaming consoles. It also provides security features, such as firewalls and encryption, to protect your network from hackers and malware.

Differences between a modem and a router:

1. Function: A modem is used to connect your computer to the internet, while a router is used to connect multiple devices on a network.
2. Connection: A modem is connected to the internet service provider through a telephone or cable line, while a router is connected to the modem to distribute the internet signal to different devices.
3. Speed: A modem determines the speed of the internet connection, while a router determines the speed of the network connection.
4. Security: A modem does not provide any security features, while a router provides security features, such as firewalls and encryption.
5. Wireless connectivity: A modem does not provide wireless connectivity, while a router provides wireless connectivity through Wi-Fi.

In conclusion, a modem and a router are two different devices that are essential for connecting to the internet and creating a network. While a modem connects your computer to the internet, a router connects multiple devices on a network and provides security features to protect your network from hackers and malware. It is important to choose the right modem and router for your needs to ensure a fast, secure, and reliable internet connection.

NECESSARY INFORMATION ABOUT CABLE ACCOUNTS IN A CALL CENTER:

A "Cable Account" in a call center typically refers to a customer's account with a cable television and internet service provider. Call center agents who handle cable accounts assist customers with a wide range of inquiries, such as billing questions, technical support, service upgrades or downgrades, troubleshooting, and more. To provide effective support for cable accounts, call center agents should have access to specific information and tools. Here's the necessary information and details about cable accounts in a call center:

Customer Account Information:

Customer's full name and contact information (phone number, email address, and physical address).

Customer's account number or unique identifier.

Billing address and payment method (credit card, bank account, etc.).

Service Details:

Type of services subscribed to (e.g., cable TV, internet, home phone).

Service plan or package details (e.g., internet speed, TV channels).

Contract or subscription term, if applicable.

Billing and Payment Information:

Billing cycle and due dates.

Current and past invoices or statements.

Payment history and any outstanding balances.

Details about discounts or promotions applied to the account.

Technical Details:

Information about the customer's cable modem or router, including the make and model.

Troubleshooting steps and guides for common technical issues (e.g., no internet connection, TV signal problems).

Network configurations and settings for cable modems or routers.

Account Notes and Interaction History:

Detailed notes from previous interactions with the customer, including past issues, resolutions, and promised follow-ups.

Any ongoing or pending service requests or technician appointments.

Promotions and Offers:

Knowledge of current promotions, discounts, and packages that may be of interest to the customer.

Ability to make changes to the customer's service plan or add/remove features as requested.

Cancellation and Retention Policies:

Understanding of the company's policies regarding account cancellations, early termination fees, and retention offers to keep customers from canceling their services.

Complaint Resolution Procedures:

Knowledge of the company's procedures for handling customer complaints and escalation processes.

Legal and Regulatory Information:

Familiarity with legal obligations and regulations related to cable services, such as privacy policies, data protection, and customer rights.

Security and Authentication:

Protocols for verifying the customer's identity to ensure account security and prevent unauthorized access.

Customer Communication Skills:

Effective communication skills to handle customer inquiries, complaints, and requests in a professional and empathetic manner.

Technical Support Tools:

Access to technical support software and tools for diagnosing and resolving technical issues.

Training and Knowledge Base:

Regular training on company products, services, policies, and procedures.

Access to a knowledge base or resources for quick reference.

It's important for call center agents to have access to all the necessary information and resources to provide efficient and helpful support to cable account customers. Additionally, ongoing training and updates are essential to keep agents informed about changes in services and policies. This ensures that customers receive the best possible assistance when they contact the call center regarding their cable accounts.

What do you understand by Cable Account?

- A "Cable Account" is essentially a membership or subscription with a cable TV provider. It allows the person to access television channels and internet services through the company. Typically, a special TV box is provided to the customer for viewing. Additionally, the account holder can review their bills and contact customer support for assistance. Cable providers often offer various packages of TV channels to choose from based on the customer's preferences.

What is a modem and used for?

A modem is a device that connects your computer to the internet through your cable service. It converts digital signals from your computer into signals that can travel over cable lines and back, so you can access the internet.

What is a router and used for?

A router is a device that helps distribute internet connections to multiple devices in your home. It directs data traffic between your devices and the modem, ensuring everyone can go online at the same time.

What is an Ethernet cable and used for?

An Ethernet cable is a cable used to connect your computer, router, or other devices directly to the internet. It provides a fast and reliable internet connection without relying on wireless signals.

What is an adapter and used for?

An adapter is a small device that allows you to connect different types of cables or devices together. It helps you use one thing with another, like connecting an older device to a newer one.

What is a coaxial cable and used for?

A coaxial cable is a thick cable that carries TV and internet signals from the wall to your devices. It's commonly used for cable TV and cable internet connections.

What is WiFi and used for?

WiFi is a wireless technology that allows your devices (like phones and laptops) to connect to the internet without using cables. It provides the convenience of internet access without physical connections.

What is WAN and used for?

WAN stands for Wide Area Network. It's a network that connects devices over a large geographical area, such as connecting different offices of a company. It helps share information over long distances.

What is WLAN and used for?

WLAN stands for Wireless Local Area Network. It's a network that connects devices wirelessly within a smaller area, like your home or office. It allows devices to communicate and share data without cables.

What is LAN and used for?

LAN stands for Local Area Network. It's a network that connects devices within a limited area, such as a single building or home. It enables devices like computers and printers to communicate and share resources.

What is WPS and used for?

WPS stands for Wi-Fi Protected Setup. It's a feature that simplifies the process of connecting devices to a secure WiFi network. You can use it to quickly add new devices to your WiFi network without entering a long password.

7 STEPS OF A CALL FLOW (Mock Call tips)

1. Open the Call (always)
2. Empathize, apologies, or assure (whichever applies)
3. Confirm the customer's account (if applicable)
4. Probe/ ask relevant questions (if applicable)
5. Solve the problem or Answer the question (always)
6. Offer additional assistance (always)
7. Close the Call (always)

ERC

Sample Telco Flowchart

By Sheina | kwestyon.com

Mock call Example - Telco

Eljay: Thank you for calling CNX technical support. My name is Eljay. I'll be your resolution specialist for today. May I have your name please?

Sophie: Hi Eljay, this is Sophie and I'm pretty sure I'm 30 minutes away from getting fired. Here's the problem, my internet stopped working and the clock is tickling. I was about to send my report this morning, I hit send and poof the connections gone, I'm seeing an exclamation point at the bottom of my screen if that makes any sense to you and its saying no internet. It's nine and I need to send my report before 10, so a little help please.

Eljay: I apologize for this inconvenience sophie, I understand that this is a time sensitive issue and ill do my best to fix your connection before 10 hopefully

Sophie: Thank you thank you, that's exactly what I want to hear Eljay: It's my pleasure. Um so you said that you were unable to send your report and the screen is showing no internet. Is it an intermittent connection where it's cutting in and out or is it a complete loss of connection?

Sophie: a Complete loss. Not just low or uh as you said intermittent connection No! I've been reloading it for 30 minutes straight now and there is nothing, whatsoever Eljay: I see. Okay okay. So I am going to start troubleshooting now first thing I'm going to do is to check for outages in your area, for that, I would need to pull up your account. May I have your account number?

Sophie: It's a 23456879

Eljay: Thank you, and your complete name and best callback number?

Sophie: Sophie Collins, 9621644566

Eljay: awesome, and your four digit passcode

Sophie: oh come on are you kidding me what is that, where can I find that

Eljay: do you remember the four digit passcode set up when you ordered a service

Sophie: I don't know. Uhm try 1426

Eljay: okay got it, and lastly I just need the address where your internet is installed so I can check if there's an ongoing outage in your area

Sophie: 1065 winterfell street philadelphoa Pennsylvania 19093

Eljay: Thank you, one moment please. While I'm checking for outages. All right there's no outage in your area and there's no open ticket submitted so far, so this brings us to the possible issue with either your modem or your device? And for me to identify which, I'm going to ask you a series of questions to diagnose the problem. Is that okay with you?

Sophie: okay, fair enough

Eljay: okay thank you, uh so what device are you currently using?

Sophie: I'm using my desktop computer

Eljay: are you using a wired connection or a wireless connection?

Sophie: Yes the one plugged in behind the CPU

Eljay: so it is a wired connection from your CPU to your modem right?

Sophie: Yes, it's a wired connection

Eljay: okay, are you in the same room as your modem where your internet is set up?

Sophie: I'm sorry honey about I don't know what a modem is but yes I think I'm in the same room where your technician set up my internet, so Eljay: Okay great, um so your modem is the flat rectangular box. It has two upright antennas. Its black and it has a white question logo on top of it. Do you see it somewhere

Sophie: I see it, I also see power, internet, WLAN, and LAN. Am I looking at the right thing?

Eljay: Yeah yes you are, that's your modem. Um could you tell me the colors of the indicator lights from each of those Sophie: I see flashing lights and there's a lot of red here. That's not a good sign is it?

Eljay: It's not a good sign. Red is a sign that something is malfunctioning and we have to identify which. So you could tell me which parts are in red, is it the internet, is it the LAN or what

Sophie: I see red on internet, on WLAN, and LAN

Eljay: okay, this sounds like a modem issue to me because of the red lights and I'm assuming that your other devices are also not working right? Could you please connect another device maybe try playing a video on youtube or browse google?

Sophie: Yeah, I wouldn't get my hopes up honey but let me see one second, let me play some youtube cat videos.

Eljay: okay

Sophie: nope, not working. Same issue

Eljay: then we're gonna do a modem reset since there is no outage in your area and yet your modem is flashing red. So at the back of your modem do you see a black cable, it's thin and its connected to a port that says power

Sophie: hold on, yes I see it

Eljay: Okay great, now please unplug that for at least 30 seconds

Sophie: All right, ohh this is a little hard to unplug. Okay it's unplugged

Eljay: All right, so now all lights from your modem should be off

Sophie: Yep they're turned off all right

Eljay: okay, after 30 seconds plug it back in. But we're gonna find out soon in a few seconds and hopefully this will solve it, if not we're gonna do something else that's for sure.

Eljay: and after plugging it back and waited for one minute, the light should turn green, others will blink that's normal but there should be no more red lights

Sophie: All right, um do you mind staying on the line until I confirm that it's working. I don't want to call second time and explain again in case it doesn't

Eljay: of course, I also need to confirm that its resolved before I could end the call so take your time

Sophie: thank you

Sophie: I think its already two minutes

Eljay: okay can you test your internet and see if you're connected maybe try sending your report

Sophie: Okay let me check my phone first because I have it closer to me, it looks like my youtube is now working on my phone, I already browsed. Yeah its working now

Eljay: okay wonderful, now what about your desktop

Sophie: let me check my desktop, okay hold on hold on. Something is wrong. Im tring to send my report right now for my desktop and still now working. Im still seeing the no internet prompt. Oh why?

Eljay: okay so your phone is working but not your desktop right?

Sophie: Yes correct

Eljay: Could you please check again the light indicators on your modem are there any red lights still

Sophie: no they're all green. Some of them are blinking but they're all green

Eljay: okay so, there's a great chance that the issue isn't with your modem anymore because the red lights are now green and your phone is already connected but not your desktop

Sophie: that certainly weird,

Eljay: now could you do me a favor and check if the cable connected to your CPU, is the exact cable connected to your modem

Sophie: of course it is look there is only one cable so it can't be the problem can it

Eljay: you're right, its unlikely. But before we proceed to the more complicated steps its advisable that we confirm the basic setup first. This will be quick it will be finished before you know it.

Sophie: okay fine

Eljay: Thank you. So is the cable properly plugged in? not loosely plugged or frayed or twisted in any way? Could you check for me?

Sophie: Im sure its fine, give me one second

Sophie: Ow you know what, you will not believe what im seeing right now, the cable is horrible horrible twisted. What is going on here. I think I discovered a problem. See at the back of the CPU the cable is barely plugged and the wire is so twisted.

Eljay: really, if that's the case that's the very reason why it isn't working. Could you try to plugging it in properly

Sophie: hold on im re-plugging it now and plugged it in back. Anyway um it looks like its working now I don't see the exclamation point anymore. Hold on let me try to send my report okay

Eljay: of course go ahead

Sophie: so let me access my drafts and attach more files this and this and this. Finally, thank you so much Eljay thank you so much.

Eljay: Oh its my pleasure sohpie

Sophie: oh you're a lifesaver that's for sure

Eljay: well im very glad that I helped you. So would there be anything else that I can help you with today?

Sophie: nope but thank you so much you're getting a five star

Eljay: Thank you and thank you so much for being my troubleshooting partner today, just a quick recap you called in today because your phone and desktop could'nt connect to the internet, first we reset your modem and then we ensure that the cable from your CPU to your modem was properly connected and now both are connected

Sophie: Yep, you have yourself a great day Eljay Bye

Eljay: you too sophie. Thank you for calling CNX technical support bye

TOP OPEN-ENDED QUESTIONS TO IMPROVE ENGLISH

BY ELJAY

Note: Some of the questions were answered relating to customer service!

How do you define Success?

-Success can be defined as the achievement of goals or the favorable outcome of efforts. To me, success in a call center role is about achieving a balance between customer satisfaction and efficient problem resolution. It means being able to effectively address customer inquiries, concerns, or issues while maintaining a positive and helpful attitude. Ultimately, success in a call center is when I can leave a customer feeling satisfied, valued, and confident in the solution provided, while also contributing to a productive and supportive team environment.

If you will be given a chance to change anything what would it be?

-In the call center industry, if I could change anything, I would focus on enhancing training programs to emphasize empathy and emotional intelligence in customer interactions. This would lead to more meaningful connections and improved customer satisfaction.

If you will be given a chance to be a Woman(if guy ka)/Man(if girl ka) for a day, what would you do and why?

-If I were to have the experience of being a woman for a day, I would use the opportunity to gain insights into different perspectives and challenges. This could help me better understand and connect with our diverse range of customers, ultimately improving my ability to provide empathetic and effective support.

If there would be a zombie apocalypse, what weapon will you pick and why?

-Well, in a hypothetical scenario like a zombie apocalypse, safety and survival would be the top priorities. While it's not something we usually discuss here, if I had to choose a weapon, I might consider something versatile like a sturdy baseball bat. It could provide both close-quarters defense and help maintain distance from potential threats.

If you will be given a chance to be an animal, why wouldn't you choose to be a monkey?

-While the idea of being a monkey is fascinating, each animal has its own unique qualities. Personally, I might choose a different animal to experience various aspects of nature. For example, being a bird would allow me to explore the skies and witness the world from a different perspective.

If you will be stuck on an island, what are the 3 things you will bring with you and why?

- If I were stuck on an island, I would want to have a versatile multi-tool that can help with various tasks, a waterproof and solar-powered emergency beacon for potential rescue, and a durable tarp or tent for shelter. These items would assist me in addressing immediate needs like food, water, and shelter, as well as increasing my chances of being noticed and rescued.

If you will be a president for a day, what policy will you implement?

-As a hypothetical president for a day, I'd work on a policy that encourages digital literacy and fights against misinformation online. This approach mirrors the emphasis on effective communication and problem-solving in addressing people needs. The policy would contribute to a more informed and responsible virtual environment, reflecting the values upheld in the industry.

How Facebook/Social media impacts life?

-Facebook/ social media greatly affect our lives in a positive and a negative way. For me, in a positive way, social media have made it easier and faster to link people all over the world. It helps us to share our ideas, opinions, and thoughts, also give us vast of information and faster means of communication. While in a negative way, social media leads us to anxieties because of cyberbullying, blackmailing, phishing, online scams, fake profiles, false information, and other forms of harassment.

What is the most important thing on Earth?

-In general terms, for me the most important thing on earth are the things like human relationships, health, and the well-being of our planet as some of the most important aspects of life on Earth.

What is your favorite food and tell me how to cook it.

-My favorite food is chicken. A simple and delicious way to cook it is to make a grilled chicken dish. Marinate chicken pieces in a mix of olive oil, minced garlic, lemon juice, salt, and pepper. Grill the chicken on medium-high heat for about 5-6 minutes per side until it's cooked through and has a nice char. Enjoy your flavorful grilled chicken with your favorite sides!

What was your favorite subject in school? Explain why this was your favorite subject?

-Throughout my college years, my favorite subject was Platform Web Development 2. It was an exciting experience for me as I had the opportunity to create my own website from scratch. In this subject, I dived into the world of HTML and CSS, learning the fundamentals while enjoying every moment of it. Additionally, I explored WordPress and built websites on my local server, expanding my skills even further. Platform Web Development 2 allowed me to unleash my creativity, express myself through design, and ignited my passion for web development.

Give me 5 characteristics you have.

- Good listening skill, problem-solving, concentration, and patience are some key features that make a perfect customer associate.

what would you prefer? family dinner in restaurant or at home? why?

-I would personally prefer a restaurant for family dinners because it allows us to explore new dishes together and create memorable moments. While home dinners are frequent, restaurant outings offer a special occasion to enjoy a variety of dishes and spend quality time with family.

What is the most interesting thing you've done recently?

-The coolest thing I've been up to lately is all about what I'm learning at school. I've been getting into programming, tackling stuff like Java, HTML, CSS, and PHP. I even managed to put together my own website using WordPress, though it's not totally perfect yet. It's all about me and my interests, and while it's not 100% amazing, it's looking pretty decent. I've also been checking out how databases work and I even made a mobile app, even if it's not the prettiest thing ever. I've been having a lot of fun learning and trying new stuff!

Where are you from originally?

-I originally come from a town called Villa San Pedro 1, situated in the barangay of Basak Pardo, which is part of the vibrant city of Cebu City in the Philippines. It's a place that holds a special spot in my heart, as it's where I was born and spent my early years. The community in Basak Pardo is known for its warmth and hospitality, and growing up in Cebu City allowed me to experience a rich blend of culture and traditions.

What is the most interesting thing about your city?

-Step into Cebu City, the enchanting 'Queen City of the South,' where history, culture, and modern comfort come together for an amazing experience. This lively city is known for its lively festivals, especially the joyful Sinulog celebration that brings people from different backgrounds together. The landmarks, like the famous Magellan's Cross, have stories that tell of their important place in Philippine history. The food scene is also a treat, with a mix of flavors reflecting the city's unique heritage. And if that's not enough, Cebu City warmly offers everything from busy internet cafes to cozy sari-sari stores and malls, ensuring you have everything you need. In Cebu City, every step is a chance to explore history, culture, and convenience—a true treasure of the Philippines.

What is your very earliest memory as a very little kid?

-My earliest memory as a little kid is of my birthday party when I turned three. I recall the colorful decorations, the cake with candles, and the laughter of friends and family. It was a moment of pure happiness and excitement that has stuck with me throughout the years.

What's the coolest place you've ever been to?

- The absolute coolest place I've ever been to is the Shangri-La Mactan Cebu, a fancy 5-star hotel. When I stayed there, I was blown away by the awesome swimming pools and the super-clear, beautiful beach. This location attracts a diverse group of tourists from various backgrounds, which made the vibe really exciting. What makes it even more special is that it's such an amazing place that words can't quite describe—I went there for the first time when I was 15, and the best part was hanging out with my cousins and family, making each moment a total blast. This memory is definitely a keeper!

What is your favorite cuisine?

-My favorite cuisine is Filipino, with dishes like adobo being a standout. I enjoy the unique blend of sweet, sour, and savory flavors that Filipino cuisine offers. Adobo's tender meat and rich marinade are simply irresistible. What makes it even more special is that it tastes even better when my mother cooks it. Exploring the variety of flavors and textures in Filipino dishes, especially when prepared by my mother, always brings me a sense of comfort and satisfaction.

What inspires you? Or Who inspired you?

-What inspires me the most are the values and aspects that matter in my life—family, friendships, time, memories, health, and experiences. These elements collectively drive me towards my goals. The love and connections I share with my family and friends, the precious moments we create, and the importance of maintaining good health motivate me to keep moving forward. These inspirations provide a strong foundation for my journey.

What is your favorite season?

-My favorite season is spring. I'm drawn to the sense of renewal and fresh beginnings that it brings. The sight of flowers blooming, trees regaining their leaves, and the overall burst of color in nature is incredibly uplifting. The mild temperatures allow for outdoor activities without extreme heat or cold. It's a time of hope and optimism, making each day feel like a new opportunity.

COMMON ASSESSMENT QUESTIONS (proven and tested ni Eljay in different companies)

Answer the question in just 45 seconds speech:

Describe the Scene of the flood?

- A flood is a natural disaster primarily caused by heavy rainfall and storm surges. Floods can have negative impacts on people, such as the loss of lives and property. One consequence of floods is the potential for water-borne diseases. To prevent floods, the only solutions are to upgrade the sewer system and clean the rivers and drainage systems.

Describe your friend/ friends?

-My friends are wonderful companions in my journey of life. They're the kind of people who bring positivity and joy to every moment. We share laughter, experiences, and memories that enrich our bond. Trust and respect are the foundation of our friendship; I can always rely on them. They offer a helping hand whenever I'm in need, whether it's a simple favor or a heartfelt conversation. Together, we navigate challenges and celebrate successes, creating a support network that's invaluable. Their presence makes life brighter, and I'm grateful for the genuine connections we share.

Behavioral Questions

Tell me about a time when you had to complete a task with little or no direction. What steps did you take to complete the task?

-As far as I can recall, a time when I had to complete a task with little or no direction was from what I had experienced in school. It was a Microsoft Access, the tasks was to create Tables, Queries, Forms, and Reports. But I have a limited time to do it, because that's what my instructor wanted to happen. So for me to complete the tasks at the specified time, the steps that I was taken are first, I started by searching on Google for tutorials and guides about Microsoft Access second, I watched several YouTube tutorials to learn the basics of creating Tables, Queries, Forms, and Reports.

third, I took notes and bookmarked useful online resources to reference fourth, I tried different approaches and experimented with different features in Microsoft Access to understand how they worked.

fifth, When I encountered specific challenges, I reached out to classmates for guidance and clarifications sixth, I thoroughly tested each component to ensure they functioned correctly and lastly, I reviewed my work to ensure it was well-organized and met the project objectives.

Through these steps, I successfully completed the project, creating Tables, Queries, Forms, and Reports in Microsoft Access. This experience taught me the value of self-learning and resourcefulness in tackling unfamiliar tasks.

Give an example of a situation / project / time when you went above and beyond your responsibility to complete a task.

-As far as I can recall, a situation that I went above and beyond my responsibility to complete a task was from what I had experienced in school. The tasks was to create a personal website that showcased my personality, likes, hobbies, and interests, but my HTML and CSS knowledge was limited, and the deadline was approaching. So for me to complete the tasks, I revisited my class notes and lecture materials on HTML and CSS, I conducted online searches to clarify any concepts I found challenging and to gather code snippets for specific design elements I wanted on my website, I practiced coding, experimenting with different styles and layouts to make my website visually good to me, and recognizing the importance of meeting the deadline, I dedicated extra hours to work on the website, sacrificing sleep to ensure it was completed on time.

Despite my initial limited knowledge, I successfully created my personal website, showcasing my personality and interests. By taking these steps and being responsible with my time, I met the deadline and improved my HTML and CSS skills in the process. This experience reinforced my commitment to meeting responsibilities as a student.

Amazon Versant test with answers | Amazon Assessment Test | Hirepro online test for job

Speech Sample

What was your favorite subject in school? Explain why this was your favorite subject?

My possible answer: Throughout my college years, my favorite subject was Platform Web Development 2. It was an exciting experience for me as I had the opportunity to create my own website from scratch. In this subject, I dived into the world of HTML and CSS, learning the fundamentals while enjoying every moment of it. Additionally, I explored WordPress and built websites on my local server, expanding my skills even further. Platform Web Development 2 allowed me to unleash my creativity, express myself through design, and ignited my passion for web development.

PART B: REPEAT. (HEARING TEST)

Drive slowly, through the construction zone

Would'nt she go, if she could?

I'd like to order a chocolate cake for my sister's birthday

You could see for miles
mark this date in your notebook

We should all go out and have a good time

I want to be sure there aren't any more problem

How soon can I get an appointment with the doctor what do you think of the candidate's opinions about education

Whoever made this mess should have to clean it up

Train noise can be heard from anywhere in the town

Arranging this tour has been quite a challenge

Ever since diane left, her dog has been sitting by the front door

Current stock prices are now available over the phone

Dennis wanted to come by but he had a schedule conflict

Shiela often runs into her former friends at the gym

PART C. QUESTION (Q&A)

to water the garden would you use a hose or a rake?

Answer: a hose

What is a motion picture commonly called?

Answer: Movie

If Im eating an apple, am I eating bread or fruit

Answer: fruit

Eljay is 20. Will he be 21 before or after his birthday?

Answer: after his birthday

In which season would you be most likely to see snow in the garden?

Answer: Winter season

what are the pages of book usually made of?

Answer: paper

PART D. SENTENCE BUILD ()

Complains

Peter

Never

Answer: Peter never complains

Expensive houses

they sell

Answer: they sell expensive houses started

the bushes

blooming

Answer: the bushes started blooming receive a bonus

the workers will not

Answer: the workers will not receive a bonus ran outside his cat

when the door opened

Answer: his cat ran outside when the door opened sings

Mary beautifully

Answer: Mary sings beautifully doesn't like bob my friends

Answer: bob doesn't like my friends and a sandwich laura ordered some coffee

Answer: Laura ordered some coffee and a sandwich did anyone threaten his reputation to destroy

Answer: did anyone threaten to destroy his reputation and patience takes confidence

negotiating salary

Answer: negotiating salary takes confidence and patience

PART E: STORY TELLING.

Jody and Mellisa went outside to plant a garden.
They brought two shavels with them.
While they are digging, Jody discovered a wooden box.
When they opened it they found a lot of silver coins.
They took the coins to an expert who told them that they were worth several thousands dollars.
Jody and Mellisa donated the money to charity.

RETELL THE STORY IN YOUR OWN WORDS:

panag-an lng diha dol in your own words ra bitaw kung unsay nahitabo englisha

Mr and Mrs. Turner wanted to adopt a pet.
But they could'nt decided if they wanted a cat or a dog.
they went to their local animal shelter and looked all the cats and dog there they found one cat and one dog that they liked very much after talking it over they decided to adopt them both

RETELL THE STORY IN YOUR OWN WORDS:

panag-an lng diha dol in your own words ra bitaw kung unsay nahitabo englisha

Craig went diving in the sea.
he wanted to touch the bottom of the see,
so he swam very deep.
when he got to the bottom, he noticed a shiny object on the sandy bottom.
when he touched it he discovered it was actually a fish.
he was surprised as the fish swam away quickly.
craig decided to buy an underwater camera for the next time.

RETELL THE STORY IN YOUR OWN WORDS:

panag-an lng diha dol in your own words ra bitaw kung unsay nahitabo englisha

PART F: OPEN QUESTION

In the past, many families eat meals together in the morning and in the evening, every day. Today, in many families parents and children have different schedules and they eat many meals separately. How does this affect family life?

Answer the question in just 40 seconds:

The shift towards different schedules and separate meal times in families can have both positive and negative effects on family life. On one hand, it can provide individual flexibility and independence, allowing family members to cater to their specific needs and activities. However, it may also lead to decreased quality time and reduced opportunities for bonding. Family meals have traditionally served as occasions for communication, sharing experiences, and strengthening relationships. With separate meals, these opportunities may diminish, potentially impacting family cohesion and communication. It becomes crucial to find alternative ways to connect and maintain a sense of togetherness amidst busy schedules, such as scheduling regular family activities or designated meal times for shared experiences.

When you study, would you rather study in a completely quiet room? or do you prefer to have some noise in the room? Please explain.

Answer the question in just 40 seconds:

when I study or prepare for my work, I prefer to study in a completely quiet room. This is because my role requires a high level of concentration and attention to detail. In a quiet environment, I can focus solely on absorbing and understanding the information without any distractions. It allows me to retain and apply the knowledge effectively when interacting with customers on calls. Having a quiet room enables me to create a controlled and focused study environment, ensuring that I am well-prepared to provide excellent service and handle customer inquiries efficiently.

HEALTH CARE ACCOUNT - UHG MNR

4 main parties in a health care system

Member (primary holder, dependents)

Facilities and Professional (hospitals, labs, clinic, psychiatric facilities, nursing homes && doctors, nurses, caregivers, medical receptionists, and more)

Medical Equipment Suppliers (pharmacies, DME durable medical equipment such as oxygen, wheelchair, etc., dental supplier)

Insurance Company (consultation, medication, cover bills for him/her)

Possible issue and to resolve issue in health care:

Issue: Caller works for a hospital and Request for Eligibility and Benefits for a patient

What to do: (Agents works for a health insurance company) Agent should pull up the account and give information needed by the caller and then hang up the phone.

Issue: Caller is a member and Asking why his son was not covered by the insurance

What to do: (Agent work for a health insurance company LOB Line of Business where you talk to members or patients) Agent should pull up the account and give information needed by the caller or explain everything why is that happening because of that or this. Etc.

Issue: Caller is a member and He wants to place an order for monthly medication

What to do: (Agent works for a pharmacy or in a medical equipment supplier) Agent should pull up his account EX. Get their full name and date of birth. Next is to verify the name of prescription with reference number with his last ordered. After that, verify his shipping address and now to process his order with expected delivery date and time. give information needed by the caller or explain everything whats so important.

Issue: Caller is a caregiver and Asks to order diapers and underpads for her patient

What to do: (Agent works for a supplier company or in a medical equipment supplier) Agent should pull up his account EX. Get their full name and date of birth. And after that, verify if the authorization on file is already expired or not. If expired, told her to ask the patient doctor for reauthorization and sent by doctor to her insurance company. After that if is to approve her insurance then the caller can call back and place an order for diapers and underpads.

BELOW ARE MY GATHERED INFORMATION TO GET FAMILIARIZE IN THE CALL CENTER INDUSTRY
AS A NEWBIE, I THINK IT CAN HELP ME BEFORE I CAN START MY TRAINING!

Can't spell your customer's name? Learn and Do this!

North Atlantic Treaty Organization or NATO phonetic alphabet

Alpha	Juliett	Sierra
Bravo	Kilo	Tango
Charlie	Lima	Uniform
Delta	Mike	Victor
Echo	November	Whiskey
Foxtrot	Oscar	X-ray
Golf	Papa	Yankee
Hotel	Quebec	Zulu
India	Romeo

Letters that sound the same with each other

A E	T D
G J	S F X
M N	B V P
Q U

Polite greetings:

Good day!

Hello!

Hello there!

Greetings!

Politely waiting for a reply:

I await your prompt response.

I'm looking forward to hearing from you.

Your timely response is much appreciated.

Please feel free to respond at your earliest convenience.

Thank you in advance for your quick reply.

Polite thank you for reaching out:

Thank you for getting in touch.

I appreciate you reaching out to me.

It's great to hear from you.

Your contact is much appreciated.

Thanks for reaching out to me.

Politely acknowledging information:

I've taken note of the information you provided.

This information will be considered.

I'll make sure to remember this detail.

Your input has been duly noted.

Polite apology for disturbance:

I apologize for any inconvenience.

Sorry for interrupting you.

Please pardon the interruption.

I hope I'm not bothering you.

My apologies for any disruption.

Polite closing of a call or email:

Thank you for your time.

Have a wonderful day.

If you have any further questions, please don't hesitate to ask.

I look forward to our next conversation.

Take care and talk to you soon.

Polite expression of gratitude as an introduction:

I would like to express my sincere gratitude for...

I'm extremely thankful for...

Your support is greatly appreciated.

I want to convey my heartfelt thanks for...

Polite way to provide an update:

I wanted to update you on...

Here's the latest information regarding...

I'd like to inform you that...

Allow me to share the recent developments on...

Polite introduction for a call or email:

I hope this message finds you well.

I trust this email finds you in good health.

I hope you're doing well.

I trust you're having a great day.

Polite Closing an email:

Yours sincerely, (Typically used when you know the recipient's name)

Yours faithfully, (More formal and often used in British English)

Kind regards, (A versatile and polite option for various situations)

Best regards, (Slightly less formal than "Yours sincerely" but still professional)

Sincerely, (A straightforward and formal choice)

Respectfully, (A respectful and formal closing)

With appreciation, (Expresses gratitude in a formal manner)

Warm regards, (Adds a touch of warmth to a formal closing)

Cordially, (A formal and gracious way to close an email)

In appreciation, (Conveys your appreciation in a formal manner)

With highest regards, (Indicates a high level of respect in a formal closing)

With best wishes, (Conveys good wishes in a formal manner)

With kindest regards, (Expresses kindness and politeness)

Yours truly, (A classic formal closing)

Very truly yours, (A highly formal and traditional choice)

EXAMPLE OF EXPLANATION LETTER TEMPLATE

Subject: Explanation letter regarding COE for releasing my JO

Eljay Cabellon

Villa San Pedro 1, Basak Pardo

Cebu City, Cebu, 6000

September 26, 2023

Talent Acquisition Team

Wipro Company

Wipro, 8W93+WMQ, Mindanao Ave

Cebu, Cebu City, 6000

Dear Talent Acquisition Team,

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to address the concern regarding my Certificate of Employment, which I provided in my application to Wipro Company. I understand there may be some confusion, and I would like to provide clarification in the hopes of securing the release of my Job Offer so that I can begin my journey as part of the Wipro team, bringing dedication and determination to my role.

I want to emphasize that my role at Deep Blue Water Refilling Station was intentionally part-time with no involvement in government-related contributions, and I did not engage in full-time work during that period. Therefore, I do not possess full-time work experience, which I now understand is a requirement for Wipro Company.

I appreciate the opportunity to clarify this matter, and I want to reiterate my strong interest in joining Wipro Company. I am willing and eager to learn and grow within the organization, and I am confident that my skills and dedication will be valuable assets to your team.

I apologize for any misunderstanding and confusion caused by the Certificate of Employment. I appreciate your understanding and consideration of my situation. If there are any additional documents or information required to further support my application, please do not hesitate to let me know. I am more than willing to provide any necessary documentation to meet Wipro Company's requirements.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to the possibility of working with Wipro Company and contributing to its success.

Sincerely,

Eljay Cabellon

EXAMPLE FOR CREATING GOOD EMAIL

Hello Ms. Joanna,

Good day!

I would like to express my gratitude for your diligent oversight of my pre-employment requirements. Please find below my response and status update:

FULL NAME: ELJAY OBRADAS CABELLON

PRE-EMPLOYMENT DISCUSSION (YES/NO): YES

LACKING REQUIREMENTS: NBI Clearance

DATE OF POSSIBLE COMPLETING IT: September 18, Monday evening or September 19, Tuesday evening

If you have any questions / clarifications, please let me know.

Thank you!

Warm Regards,
Eljay Cabellon

Below are some of the assessment stage where you can free to try

Test yourself now!

For Typing Test

try: <https://www.typingtest.com/>

try: <https://www.typing.com/student/tests>

For Emotional Intelligence Test

try: <https://www.ihhp.com/free-eq-quiz/>

For Interpersonal Reactivity Index Test

try: <https://psytests.org/eq/irien.html>

For Color Blindness Test

try: <https://colormax.org/color-blind-test/>

How do you reference a source of information?

How does one cite a source?

For books: author, title, place of publication, publisher, and publication year.

For articles: author, title of article, title of journal, volume, issue, date, page numbers, and doi or permalink.

For web page resources: author, title of page, Web address or URL, and date of access.